Reporting Crime

The Basics of Neighborhood Watch

- Any community resident can join — young or old, single or married, renter or homeowner.
- Any resident or community organization can spearhead the effort to organize a Neighborhood Watch.
- Participants learn how to make their homes more secure, watch out for each other and the neighborhood, and report activities that raise their suspicions to the Sheriff's Department.

- You can form a Neighborhood Watch group around any geographical unit: a block, apartment complex or business area.
- Watch groups are not vigilantes. They are extra eyes and ears for reporting crime and helping neighbors. Neighborhood Watch helps build pride and serves as a springboard for efforts that address community concerns such as beautification and disaster preparedness.

Join a Neighborhood Watch

Neighborhood Watch is one of the most effective and least costly ways to prevent crime and reduce fear. Neighborhood Watch fights the isolation that crime both creates and feeds upon. It forges bonds among area residents, helps reduce burglaries and robberies, and improves relations between law enforcement and the community they serve.

Getting Organized

To form a Neighborhood Watch group, contact the Crime Prevention office at 267-5170. A Crime Prevention Specialist will provide you with a Neighborhood Watch guide that explains how to get your group started, including:

- Selection of a Block Captain and Co-Captain
- Establishing a method for effective neighborhood communication
- Recruiting members and making special effort to include the elderly, working parents and young people
- Identifying areas of concern that are specific to your neighborhood

Staying Active

It's an unfortunate fact that when a neighborhood crime crisis goes away, so does enthusiasm for Neighborhood Watch. The key to keeping a Neighborhood Watch group active is maintaining people's interest over time.

- Organize regular meetings that focus on other issues such as recreational activities for children and emergency preparedness.
- Consider a neighborhood beautification project or participate in the Adopt-A-Wall graffiti removal program.
- Do not forget social events that give neighbors a chance to know each other — host a block party, picnic or softball game.
