Legacy Commons to Host Opening Reception for “Art: Mixing It Up” Exhibit This Wednesday

PALMDALE – The City of Palmdale’s Legacy Commons for Active Seniors will host an opening night reception for a new art exhibit titled “Art: Mixing It Up” on Wednesday, April 20 from 6 to 8 pm at Legacy Commons, East Avenue Q-9 in Palmdale. Admission is free and open to the public. Light refreshments will be served.

The exhibit features work from students in the Legacy Commons Art Journaling class led by volunteer instructor Janet Briggs. This is their first exhibit and will feature the works of instructor Briggs as well as students Carolyn Riggsbee, Sharon Spain, Marie Halbert, Annie Wallack, Carolyn McDonald, Gabriele Baber and Terri Walker.

For more information, please call 661/267-5904.

About Legacy Commons

Legacy Commons provides adults age 55+ the opportunity to remain young-at-heart with a wide range of drop-in activities in a modern, contemporary center. Experience camaraderie, enhance your overall health, continue learning and foster self-reliance through our fitness and exercise classes, visual and performing arts programs, informational seminars and special interest groups. Adjacent Legacy Park features walking paths and picnic tables, bocce ball courts, horseshoe pits and a croquet lawn. Visitors are invited to pick up a detailed schedule of activities. No membership is required.

Legacy Commons is located at 930 East Avenue Q-9, and is open Monday through Thursday, from 8 am to 4:30 pm and Friday's from 8 am to 12 noon. For more information call Legacy Commons at 661/267-5904.
